

Assembly Bill A3123 - Call for Action

The unified task force of NJ home education advocates has learned that the source of this bill was a concerned citizen, a non-home educators, who decided that "something had to be done" to "protect" NJ's homeschooled children.

This is good news - it means that we have a very real chance at killing this bill while it sits in Committee, before it goes to the Assembly for a Second Reading.

Please check NJHA's website for details, a link to the bill itself, and info on the current members of the task force.

Please pass this along to homeschoolers not on line. Also, grandparents, neighbors, friends can also call in support.

Thank you.
